

Terms of use, meatpoint.io's dietitian tools

Hello!

We have a dream that our life companions will be healthy and live for a very long time. Many pets under human care are at risk of diet-related diseases or already suffer from diseases. That is why we have prepared tools for dietitians based on the BARF Meatpoint Diet (MPD) formula, based on the latest scientific knowledge and the experience of many dietitians and conscious animal carers. We are convinced that the health of dogs and cats often requires the professional care of a nutritionist equipped with easy-to-use online tools. We invite you to work together on improving the welfare of pets and popularizing BARF feeding.

Below are the regulations which contain information on functionalities addressed to dietitians. For general rules, please see the Terms of use.

In case of any comments, questions, or doubts, we are at your disposal at support@meatpoint.io

We welcome you and wish you many effective treatments
